Brick for Sale

A few thousand old brick for sale.

2st J. D. King & Son.

The republican argument that a high tariff is necessary to maintain "the high American wage" is shown up as a farce by the presence in several American manufacturing communities of agents of Canadian manufacturers, who are gathering figures to show that Canada cannot compete against American wages. The Canadians, for instance, are learning that men work in the steel mills twelve hours a day, and seven days a week for a dollar and a half a day.

It is because they do not wish to compete against the cheap foreign immigrant labor employed by the steel and other trusts that some of the Canadians are urging the defeat of reciprocity. And the republican protectionists have argued all these years that the great danger to American labor was the possibility that it might have to compete with the cheap labor of other countries. The information gathered by the Canadians knocks the legs from under that ancient contention, so far as Canada is concerned.

Speaker Clark plans to make good roads an issue of the next campaign.

As a member of the Lincoln Memorial commission Mr. Clark is advocating the building of a great highway from Washington to Gettysburg, "as the nucleus of a great system of national roads built by the government in co-operation with the States."

The majority of the commission favors a marble arch in Washington, which the speaker says would fit in with the practical character of the great Lincoln.

The speaker has induced the president to defer action until legislation can be passed permitting the building of the road. He will then work for the adoption by the government of a national road building policy.

That Attorney General Wickershaw will become a campaign issue by 1912 is regarded as certain by those looking ahead. Wickershaw has permitted Taft to be besmirched in the Pinchot and other matters. Wickershaw was on the side of Ballinger against Pinchot just as he is at present against Dr. Wiley. Developments in the steel trust investigation furnished fresh evidence that Wickershaw exemplifies the alliance between the Republican party and monopolists. In the opinion of many the sequence of all this will be that Taft will get many a whack over Wickershaw's shoulder.

Platform

On Which Kentucky Democrats Will Fight This Fall.

Section 1—ON NATIONAL ISSUES.
We, the Democrats of Kentucky, in delegate convention duly assembled and held in the city of Louisville, Kentucky, on August 15, 1911, do hereby pledge anew our faith in and devotion to the time-honored and eternal principles of our party fast promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and since reaffirmed in successive platforms of the party, and we especially reaffirm our faith in and devotion to the national Democratic platform adopted at Denver, Colorado, in the year 1909.

Sec. 2—We denounce the Republican party and the present Republican President, for their flagrant and willful betrayal of the trust reposed in them by the American people and call attention especially to the fact that they have willfully disregarded their pre-election promises to the effect that they would revise downward the unjust tariff system and would relieve the masses of the people of the heavy burdens of unjust and unnecessary taxation.

On the contrary the Republicans enacted the odious Payne-Aldrich tariff law of 1909, pronounced by Mr. Taft to be the best Republican tariff law ever passed which was a gross breach of the promises of the Republican President and his political party. This tariff, in order to enrich the few, increased the burdens of the many, and authorized those favored few not only to continue, but to increase, their robbery of the many under the form of the heavy taxes of unjust and unnecessary taxation.

We point with pride so, and heartily endorse the patriotic record made by the present Democratic members of Congress and Democratic Senators, in their efforts, over determined Republican opposition to, in good faith, redeem the promises of the Democratic party to repeal unjust and oppressive Republican laws, and to enact wise and just laws for the benefit of the great masses of the people and we have to contrast the aims and record of the Democrats in the House and Senate with the record of the Republicans in the same body.

Sec. 3—We favor such wise and conservative laws as will encourage road and bridge building in Kentucky and favor the construction of aid for the construction of roads and bridges, but only on conditions that each colony or local community which is primarily benevolent first make part and discharge its duty to itself in this regard.

Sec. 4—We favor organization and co-operation among the farmers and laborers of the State, and the enactment of such constitutional laws as will protect them from the greed and oppression of the trusts and monopolies of the country, which are the direct result of Republican legislation.

STEEL MONSTERS CRASH HEAD ON

THRILLING SPECTACLE PROMISED FOR VISITORS AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

COLD SHIVERS A PLenty

Two Monster Steel Steam Engines Dash to Certain Destruction in Full View of Spectators.

Seldom is it that any community is afforded an opportunity to witness such an ambitious and thrilling performance as is promised the crowd in attendance at the Kentucky State Fair on Saturday, September 16, when the spectacle is provided of two monster steam engines, started up to crash head-on in full view of the spectators. A sight such as this is sufficient to cause the most stoic of persons, with the nerves of steel, to involuntarily shudder and flinch at the collision occurs.

The hiss of escaping steam, the bursting of the great boilers, the rending of the formidable iron parts, the tearing and crashing and grinding of twisted masses of steel are even inspiring in the terrible force which accompanies them.

The sight of the two mountains of machinery rushing headlong into each other's embrace is sufficient to freeze the blood in one's veins, and send shivers of fear rushing up and down the spine, despite the knowledge that there is no real danger.

The sensations resulting are intense, but it is such as those that the human family is seeking to-day, and no more spectacular offering could be provided to satisfy the ever present desire for something out of the ordinary.

The engines are placed on opposite ends of a track built especially for the purpose. The fires are started, the steam is admitted, the throttles are thrown open, and the two monsters are started to physical destruction by engineers who leap to safety before the impact comes.

PREMIUM LIST CREAMERY BUTTER

NEW DEPARTURE FOR KENTUCKY STATE FAIR CERTAIN TO MAKE HIT.

Nursery cultivation is proving not only one of the most important of studies in the rural sections of Kentucky but it also is developing into one of commercial importance which is taking high rank. To those interested it will be good news to learn that the Kentucky State Fair management has decided to offer tempting premiums for nursery displays in connection with plant and flower departments.

This is another of the entirely new departures which have been decided upon for the big Kentucky State Fair of 1911. It is along the lines of progress and improvement which make certain that the Kentucky State Fair not only will maintain its lead in the south but that it will take its rightful place among the great state fairs of Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and others to the north.

Among the new departments will be the educational, with prizes for the children in connection with the rural schools. These prizes will be divided among the classes in sewing, cooking, map drawing, model lessons, writing, spelling, etc. The premium will be placed in competent hands by Prof. Ellsworth Regester, at the head of this department, he having designated Mr. McHenry Rhodes, of Owensboro, and Prof. T. J. Coates, of Richmond, for that purpose. Such a department is certain to appeal to the enthusiasm of both teachers and pupils, and splendid results are expected.

This recognition of the rural schools is in line with the policy of the management to recognize the section of the state from which a big part of the support for the Kentucky State Fair is expected.

PERRY'S VICTORY ON ERIE TO BE DISPLAYED IN FIRE

Triumph of Pyrotechnic Art, Something Absolutely New, Will Be Seen at Kentucky State Fair.

From the amusement standpoint, as diverse from the more serious or the educational end, the Kentucky State Fair of 1911 will make a big hit. Amusements of a character which will not give offense, but which are up to the minute, have been contracted for, and it will be to laugh every minute while the visitors are in the proper section. The marshalling house of several big, clumsy elephants is an interesting feature from a pleasure standpoint. The Whirling Lunette Sisters will make the average person dizzy in a very few minutes and their gyrations are a wonder.

PERMANENT BUILDING IN INTEREST OF HEALTH

The campaign for health being waged the country over is to be aided materially by the establishment of the grounds of the Kentucky State Fair, at Louisville, of a permanent health building, the cost of which will be paid by the Jefferson county fiscal court. Dr. W. Ed Grant, city health officer of Louisville, and Dr. W. B. Smock, Jefferson county health officer, took up this matter with the fiscal court and secured the appropriation. The federal government has agreed to send a corps of instructors to Kentucky each year during the fair to deliver lectures dealing with the problem of health.

PRIZE WINNERS' PARADE ONE OF BIG FEATURES

Livestock, Bedecked in Ribbons, March Around Pavilion to Delight of Audience.

What has always been one of the most interesting of all the features in connection with the Kentucky State Fair was the grand parade of prize winning livestock around the ring in the million dollar building. This festival is to be given more attention this year than ever. It will be started at two o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, September 15.

This parade is an imposing one, not alone from the amount of money represented by the premiums, but because of the great amount represented in the value of the animals concerned.

The showy ribbon work will be seen aware of their commercial importance as they trudge around the ring, while the sleek, carefully groomed horses of high degree prance along as if more than conscious of grace and breeding.

Cattle dogs, running and barking at the crack of the whips of their masters, ponies and costly sheep and goats, all combine to make a show that will be a source of pride to those who own the prize winners and a stimulus to others to enter their stock in future competitions.

Kentuckians should be especially interested in the graphically spectacular display of the victory on Lake Erie, as Gov. Wilson has already appointed commissioners from this state to the centennial celebration in 1912.

Other beautiful and impressive figures shown in fire will be produced nightly by the Pyro-Spectacular Company of Rochester, N. Y., with which concern the contract has been made.
